The Songs of Sir John Andrew Stevenson

Sue Brady

Thesis submitted to the National University of Ireland, Maynooth as part-fulfilment for the degree of Master of Arts in Music (Historical Studies)

Head of Department: Professor Gerard Gillen
Music Department
National University Of Ireland Maynooth

Supervisor: Dr. Barra Boydell
July 2003
Contents

Preface ii

Acknowledgements iii

Introduction 1-4

The Songs 5-9

The Catches and Glees 10-12

The Operas 13-18

Introduction to Catalogue 19-20

Contents of Catalogue 21

Catalogue of Stevenson’s Songs 22-88

Appendices 89-94

Bibliography 95-97

Abstract 98
Sir John Andrew Stevenson is well renowned for his symphonies and accompaniments to Thomas Moore's Irish Melodies, his glees and cathedral works. This thesis focuses on the songs of Sir John Andrew Stevenson and includes a catalogue of his works which amounts to more than three hundred individual pieces containing the majority of his output. Very little has been written about these songs so investigating this repertoire relies heavily on information provided in the catalogues. The aim of this thesis is to draw attention to Stevenson's songs and to provide a reliable and informative listing of these songs.

This thesis conforms to the house style of the Department of Music, the National University of Ireland, Maynooth.
Acknowledgements

I would like to express my gratitude to Professor Gerard Gillen and the staff of the Music Department, The National University of Ireland, Maynooth. I am also grateful to the staff of the University Library, Maynooth and Emma Costello at the National Library of Ireland. I am particularly indebted to my supervisor, Dr. Barra Boydell for his invaluable help, advice and guidance.

To my family, especially my mother, Laura for her unending support, encouragement and delicious meals. To Amanda Brady at Zinc Design Consultants for designing the CD cover. To Dylan Rynhart for recording and producing the CD and to the musicians, David Connolly and Niall McGrath.

Dedicated to my parents, Liam and Laura Brady.
Introduction

Sir John Andrew Stevenson

John Andrew Stevenson was born in Crane Lane, Dublin in 1761. His father, a violinist from Glasgow and member of the State Band in Dublin was a friend of Richard Woodward who was organist of Christ Church Cathedral from 1763 to 1777 and master of choristers at Christ Church and St. Patrick’s Cathedral. John Andrew was orphaned in early childhood when both his parents succumbed to a fever and died within a few days of each other. The bereaved boy was left in the care of a William G. Gibson, partner in a musical instrument firm on Grafton street who, after some difficulty, procured admission for John Andrew to the Christ Church Cathedral boys choir. Here he was boarded, clothed and educated. Indentured as a choirboy in 1775 he was appointed stipendiary in 1781, a position which he held for many years.

From an early age, it appears that John Andrew Stevenson exhibited a considerable musical talent which was encouraged by the musical instructor and organist of Christ Church, Dr. Woodward. One of his earliest compositions, a four part glee One Night when all the Village Slept won a prize for the Amateur Society. In his teens he composed incidental music for John O’Keefe’s The Dead Alive which made a considerable impact on the playwright who later recalled

---

1 W.H. Husk, W.H. Gratton Flood and Bruce Carr: The New Grove Dictionary of Music and Musicians, xxiv, 378. There is however a memorial monument in Christ Church Cathedral stating Stevenson’s birth as 1767 (see appendices 1 and 2 pgs. 89-90). This is more likely to be the composer's date of birth as in Barra Boydell’s Music in Christ Church before 1800, 149 it is recorded that Stevenson was indentured as a chorister in 1775 making the boy eight years old.

2 Barra Boydell: Music at Christ Church before 1800, 149

3 Bumpus: A History of English Cathedral Music, 3
‘He composed some of the airs and played and sang them to me at my house in Capel Street, and very beautiful they were…’. 4

In 1791 the University of Dublin conferred on Stevenson the honorary degree of Doctor in Music, and in 1800 he obtained the post of vicar choral to Christ Church cathedral.

In 1786 he married Anne Butler, a twenty-two year old widow who had been a former pupil of the composer. She died in 1802, leaving their two sons and two daughters in his care. In 1803 Stevenson was Knighted by the Earl of Hardwicke who had been greatly impressed by his setting of Thomas Moore’s translation from The Ode of Anacreon: Give me the Harp of Epic Song 5. This privilege provoked a negative reaction from some of his contemporaries. 6

It is said that Stevenson was introduced to Thomas Moore by the Rev. Mr. Cradock, assistant librarian of Archbishop Marsh’s Library. Moore had been given the benefit of constant access to the library where he translated, among other works, The Ode of Anacreon. On one occasion in 1798 Moore and Stevenson joined Mr. Ferns, verger of St. Patrick’s Cathedral where Moore recited some of his translations which were subsequently published in 1800. Moore and Stevenson began a collaboration whereby traditional Irish airs were set to words by Moore and harmonized and arranged by Stevenson. Moore’s Irish Melodies, which were published in London between 1808

NLI: Add. Mus. 9109, (Dublin, Willis, c. 1827)
4 John O’ Keeffe: Recollections (vol. 1, p. 403, 1826)
6 Bumpus, ‘Irish Church Composers and the Irish Cathedrals’, mentions a couplet which was popular after his knighthood which indicates the attitude of some of his peers; ‘We all of us know there’s a Knight in the Shire But who ever heard of a Knight in the choir?’
and 1834, led to a further collaboration between the two, but this time using a selection of airs from different countries called National Airs.

Stevenson also contributed to Moore’s Sacred Melodies in c. 1816. Stevenson’s arrangements of Moore’s Melodies, despite gaining notable acclamation, also received much criticism, particularly from Edward Bunting who accused Stevenson of tampering with and altering the original character of the melodies.

In 1814 Stevenson was appointed the first organist and director of the Chapel Royal at Dublin Castle. By the year 1825 he had composed an extensive quantity of cathedral music amounting to eight service settings, twenty six anthems, double chants, hymns and an oratorio. His anthems seldom call for exceptional vocal technique, those that do are written especially for singers of the Dublin Cathedrals and are notable for their melodiousness.

Stevenson was also a prolific composer of secular songs, glees, catches, canzonets, madrigals and dramatic pieces, and these works are the subject of this thesis. One of the most highly regarded musicians of his day, he enjoyed a wide popularity among the gentry both as a composer and as a singer. He mingled with the fashionable society, and is reputed to have possessed a fine bass voice. As a chorister he sang difficult solo parts

---

7 Bunting, Edward (b. Armagh 1773; d. Dublin 1843) Pioneer student of Irish folk tunes, published standard collections (1796-1840)
8 In 1814, Dublin Castle had been newly erected. Prior to this date, Christ Church had been considered to be the Chapel Royal.
9 Ita Hogan: Anglo Irish Music, 178. The Oratorio The Thanksgiving was performed in London in 1826, but was never heard as a whole in Ireland.
10 Barra Boydell: A Bright Exception to the General Rule, 55 with steadiness and ease and distinguished himself not only as a composer but by the superior quality of his voice. He was fond of convivial company and was noted for his playful humor. However, his predilection for aristocratic society sometimes expressed itself in a pomposity of manner which often led to him being the victim of practical jokes.

Stevenson died on September 14th, 1833 at Headford House Co. Meath, the home of his daughter Olivia and her husband the Marquis of Headford. He was buried in St. Mary’s Church, Meath and although there is no inscription to his memory at the church, there is a memorial at Christ Church. A tribute was paid to Stevenson by Moore in the last of the Irish Melodies which reflects the sentiments of the author and those who admired Stevenson’s work:

Yes, Erin, thine alone the fame,-
Or if thy bard have shar’d thy crown,
From thee the borrowed glory came,
And at thy feet is now laid down;
Enough, if Freedom still inspire
His latest song, and still there be,
As evening closes round his lyre,
One ray upon the chords from thee.

---

11 Bumpus: A History of English Cathedral Music, 4
12 ibid, 38
13 A carlier stated (see appendices 1 and 2, pgs. 89-90)
The Songs

Stevenson was almost exclusively a composer of vocal music. In addition to his accompaniments for Moore's collections, he wrote a broad range of songs which fall into various categories: songs, ballads, canzonets, catches, glees and songs written either for a soloist or for two or more voices. Some of these works were written with a particular singer in mind, Dr. John Spray.

Dr. Spray was originally a chorister at Southwall, Nottinghamshire who then obtained a lay vicarage at Lichfield. In 1785 he moved to Dublin to sing at the Cathedrals. He was known as being one of the best tenors in Dublin at the time. 'Many now living (1877) can recall the lovely tenor voice of Dr. Spray, and how he would send it forth with its rich swells, and every note full and distinct, till it seemed to ripple along the walls like the summer waves of a river'.

Spray is especially noted for the way in which he sang the solos written for him by Stevenson, one of particular popularity being the song which is Faithless Emma.

The manner in which Stevenson composed this song exemplifies the facility and rapidity in which he wrote. One evening in c. 1805 Stevenson and Spray joined Mr. George Alley (afterwards Sir George) for a meal. Through the course of the evening Stevenson is reputed to have complimented Spray's interpretation of Croft's anthem.

---

2 NLI: Add. Mus. 10, 440. The popularity of this piece is reflected in the fact that seven different editions exist in the NLI and twelve from the BL, indicating the amount of times it has been published.
O, Lord, thou searchest me and in response, Spray suggested that Stevenson should write a song for him to sing. Alley wrote the words, Stevenson set them to music and subsequently Spray sang Faithless Emma and on numerous occasions afterwards he performed this piece for both public and private recitals. In addition to many performances both in Ireland and England, it was ‘sung with great applause by Mr. Spray at the Music Hall Liverpool’ c. 1811.

Faithless Emma is in ternary form with a coda at the end of each verse (A, A, B, A, coda). The introduction to the song quotes the opening phrase of the song followed by a brief variation of this phrase ending in a perfect cadence in tonic key C major. Like much of Stevenson’s music, the charisma lies in the brief piano interludes, in this case the connection between the second A section with the B section.

Example 1 Stevenson: Faithless Emma, bars 17-18

---

3 A.G. Holliday: The Dublin University Magazine, xxxvii, 499
4 NLI: Add. Mus. 10, 440
This is followed by a discreet gesture leading back into the A section.

Example 2 Stevenson: Faithless Emma, bars 22-23

For a full rendition of Faithless Emma, listen to accompanying compact disc (Appendix 3, p. 91).

Tell me where is Fancy Bred is a duet with an accompaniment for piano or pedal harp written by Stevenson, set to the poem by Shakespeare and dedicated to Spray.\(^5\) One edition of this piece was arranged with parts for horns, flutes and violins.\(^6\) Another was arranged for two treble voices by Henry R. Bishop and sung in Shakespeare’s Comedy of Errors at the Theatre Royal, Covent Garden by Miss Stephens and Miss M. Tree.\(^7\)

Other songs sung by Spray include The Hour of Victory, Oh Tell Me, Mary Dear, Wellington & Victory, When Time was Entwining the Garland of Years, Whilst I

\(^5\) NLI: JM 2009. Six editions exist in the NLI and twenty from the BL
\(^6\) NLI: Add. Mus. 9157
\(^7\) NLI: Add. Mus. 6409
Listen to Thy Voice and The Year that's Awa. Some of Stevenson's works mark historical events so can be dated more accurately, for example The Hour of Victory was composed 'On the death of the immortal Nelson' which occurred on the 2 December 1805. Wellington & Victory was 'Written on the glorious success of the British Arms in Portugal, dedicated to all his Majesty's loyal subjects' so is most likely to have been composed subsequent to Wellington's victory at Fuentes de Onoro in 1811.

A canzonet is a title given to a light, secular vocal piece, particularly in the Italian style from the late sixteenth century to the late eighteenth century. It was a musical setting of a strophic poem with piano accompaniment, occasionally the music was modified strophic or through composed. One of the best known examples of this style is Haydn's canzonetts.

Stevenson is believed to have been an ardent admirer of Joseph Haydn and although he was lacking in formal compositional training, he appears to have been capable of assimilating his style. Haydn's influence is evident not only in his sacred compositions but also in his songs. In addition to the canzonets listed in the catalogue, Stevenson wrote a set of twelve canzonets which were published c. 1800. Haydn in 1794 and the following year wrote two sets of six original

---

9 Haydn: Lieder (Munich, G. Henle Verlag, 1982), 34-66
10 W.H. Grindle: Irish Cathedral Music
11 NLI: Add. Mus. 2647
canzonets. There are some striking similarities between the two composers’ sets of canzonets.

One of Stevenson’s which appears to have been popular is Fair Hebe, a canzonet for two voices. Similar to Haydn’s canzonet She never told her love, this piece is through composed. The introduction in the piano accompaniment quotes the opening phrase of the vocal line as does the introduction in Haydn’s canzonet The Sailor’s song. Prior to the beginning of the vocal line in Fair Hebe there is chromatic alteration in the piano accompaniment followed by a 4-3 suspension.

Example 3 Stevenson: Fair Hebe, bars 7-8

!Example 3 Stevenson: Fair Hebe, bars 7-8

A similar device appears in Haydn’s canzonet Despair.

Example 4 Haydn: Despair, bars 5-7

!Example 4 Haydn: Despair, bars 5-7

---

12 NLI: Add. Mus. 12, 446
The Catches and Glees

A catch is a type of comic round, originally written for male voices and sometimes of a bawdy nature. They were mainly written for three or four voices, sometimes for as many as ten and were a celebration of irresponsible male leisure time. By the mid-eighteenth century singing groups meeting in taverns were increasingly being represented as formal catch clubs which developed in England, Ireland and Scotland: the lyrical content of catches began to take on a more gracious manner.¹

Stevenson wrote two catches: Come buy my cherries subtitled *The Dublin Cries*² and *Here each lad may toast his lass.*³ The former was particularly popular, written for four voices dedicated to a Mrs. Stace of Woolwich.

The term ‘glee’ is derived from the old English ‘gleo’ meaning entertainment. Glees are a type of part song, characteristically for male voices, though often including female voices. They were fostered by the Catch Clubs in the mid eighteenth-century when the form developed into a through composed song with contrapuntal inflections. From 1763 onwards, the Noblemen and Gentlemen’s Catch Club in London gave competitions for serious glees, light glees, catches and canons, encouraging the composition of glees. In Ireland, glees and catches were sung at the Hibernian Catch Club, The Beefsteak club and The Gentlemen’s Club. Stevenson wrote many of his glees and catches for the Hibernian Catch Club, founded by the vicars-choral of Christ Church and St. Patrick's Cathedral in c. 1680.

² NLI: JM 2509
³ NLI: JM 2651

In the late eighteenth-century, the most popular vocal groupings for glees were ATB, TTB and ATTB, alto parts were sung by male falsettists, however glees began to be written for SATB reflecting a general acceptance of women into choral clubs. There was a fashion for glees to be written with instrumental accompaniment between 1795 and 1815 which is evident in Stevenson’s compositions. Towards the end of his life he was awarded by both the Hibernian Catch Club and the Beefsteak club for his contribution towards their entertainment.

Some of Stevenson’s most popular music is to be found in his catches and glees. There are two sets of Stevenson’s glees existing in the National Library. The first is dedicated to the ‘Noblemen and Gentlemen of the Amateur Society’ c. 1785. The second, dedicated to Lord Viscount Valentia c. 1795, contains With Tender Lambkins, a particularly admired glee. It is written for three voices without accompaniment and in keeping with his other works, the music circles around the tonic and dominant keys with contrasting dynamic markings. Triplets and ornamentation are assigned to the treble voice throughout the piece.

5 John S. Bumpus: A History of English Cathedral Music, 11-12
Example 5  Stevenson: With Tender Lambkins, bars 7-9

6 NLI Collection Catalogue: NLI : JM 5457 and NLI: Add. Mus. 7383 respectively
The Operas

The term opera in the eighteenth to early nineteenth century in Dublin relates to many types of vocal productions; operatic dramas, comic operas, romances, dramas and melodramas.¹ These musical productions varied from one to three acts, often incorporating interludes of ballets while some were merely plays with overtures and incidental music. Operas were written on themes which mirrored topics of interest of the time: the charms of rural life, classical themes, and comedies. Towards the end of the eighteenth century, many operas had exotic settings, others romanticized the past.

The operas performed in the eighteenth to early nineteenth century tended to be amended drastically for different productions in order to meet the expectations of the audience, new scenes being added and popular songs included. Many of these operas were effectively no more than medleys of songs designed to feature the popular singers, while others were dramas with incidental music. The demand for this indiscriminate form of entertainment began to fade in the second decade of the nineteenth century as opera began to develop into the form more familiar today.

Some of the most prominent opera composers of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries active in Dublin were John Braham, Thomas Carter, Thomas Cooke, Michael Kelly, William Rooke and Sir John Andrew Stevenson.

¹ Ita Hogan: A Survey of Anglo-Irish Music (Cork, Cork University Press, 1966), 123
John Andrew Stevenson’s earliest involvement in the writing of music for opera was with the playwright John O’Keeffe.2 The additional songs he wrote to O’Keeffe’s operatic farces are among the most popular of his operas. The Son-in-Law and The Dead Alive were written in 1781, The Agreeable Surprise was written the following year in 1782. Music for The Son-in-Law was written by Dr. Samuel Arnold three years before Stevenson’s version as was The Agreeable Surprise in 1781.3

Stevenson also wrote additional songs for Shadwell’s Psyche and for J. Kenny’s False Alarms. He set music to David Garrick’s libretto Cymon, a work which had been previously set to music by Michael Arne and subsequently set to music by Sir Henry Bishop4 and an opera called The Out-Post with a libretto by William Smith Junior (1818).5 For further details on additional songs to operas, see the catalogue, p. 66.

Stevenson composed no less than ten full operas. See list in (Appendix 4, p. 92)

The libretto for the comic opera The Contract was written by Robert Houlton and is considered to be his first successful effort for the Dublin stage.6 This has been attributed to the composers who worked in collaboration on the opera; Philip Cogan, Tiomosa Giordani and John Andrew Stevenson.7 It was first performed at the Smock Alley Theatre on 14th May 1782 and was performed five times the following year and again revived in 1785. The

---

2 John O’Keeffe was born in Dublin in 1747 and died in 1833. He wrote more than thirty-five farces, comedies and operettas, some of which held the stage for many years.
3 Brian Boydell: Rotunda Music in Eighteenth-Century Dublin (Dublin, 1992), 212
4 Dr. Samuel Arnold (1702-1802) English composer, organist and teacher
5 T.J. Walsh: Opera in Dublin 1705-1797: Fredrick Jones and the Crow Street Theatre (New York, Oxford University Press, 1993), 58 This opera is not mentioned in the New Grove Dictionary nor is it mentioned in John Bumpus’s literature.
6 T.J. Walsh: Opera in Dublin 1798-1820: Fredrick Jones and the Crow Street Theatre (New York, Oxford University Press, 1993), 228
7 Ita Hogan: Anglo-Irish Music (Cork, Cork University Press, 1966), 129
cast for the first performance included Mitchell, Fotteral, Wood, Cornelys, Kane, Gamea, Murphy, Johnstone, Mrs. Heaphy, Mrs. Hitchcock, Miss Hitchcock, Miss Wood and Miss Johnstone.8

Love In a Blaze with a libretto by Joseph Atkinson was first performed on the 29th May in 1799 at the Theatre Royal, Crow Street, Dublin. This comic opera was received with great applause and had a ‘Lively and sentimental dialogue appropriate to the several characters, adorned with elegant songs and choruses’.9

Stevenson wrote the music for another comic opera called The Bedouins or The Arabs of the Desert with a libretto by Eyles Irwin, an orientalist and writer who had been born in Calcutta and died in England.10 The production of this opera was elaborate with scenery designed by Mr. Chalmers and Filippo Zafforini and machinery by Peter Martinelli. It was first performed on the 1st May 1801 at the Theatre Royal, Crow Street, Dublin.

In 1811 he wrote a melodrama called The Patriot or The Hermit of Saxellen with a libretto by H.B. Code. A glee from this opera See our oars with feather'd spray was performed on the 11th August 1814 at the Rotunda for Madame Catalini’s Dublin Concerts.11 This opera contains no incidental music but does feature some songs which were published separately.

---

8 Hibernian Journal. May 8/10, 1782
9 Freeman’s Journal, 21st March 1799
10 T.J. Walsh: Opera in Dublin 1798-1820: Fredrick Jones and the Crow Street Theatre (Oxford, 1993), 20
11 T.J. Walsh: Opera in Dublin 1798-1820: Frederick Jones and the Crow Street Theatre (Oxford, 1993), 251
In that year he also wrote a musical play called The Border Feuds or The Lady of Buccleuch based on The Lady of the Lake by Walter Scott. This was first performed on the 2 May 1811 at the Theatre Royal.

The dramatic romance The Spanish Patriots with libretto by H.B. Code was first performed in 1812 and is said to have attracted little attention.\(^\text{12}\)

The character of Pedro was played by a Mr. Penson and featured in the comic song Our Good Father Adam from this dramatic romance.\(^\text{13}\) In addition to its humorous lyrical content, its most interesting feature lies in the middle section of the song where there is an alternation between diminished and major chords, far removed from its tonic key of B flat major.

Example 6 Stevenson: The Spanish Patriots. ‘Our Good Father Adam’ (Pedro), bars 21-24

\(^{12}\) Ita Hogan: Anglo Irish Music (Cork, Cork University Press, 1966), 129

\(^{13}\) NLI: JM 1999
In 1813 he wrote The Burning of Moscow or The Russian Sacrifice to a play by H.B. Code and in the same year he wrote music to Edwin and Angelina inspired by a work by Oliver Goldsmith.

A piece of particular interest in The Russian Sacrifice is The Fisherman’s Glee. It is scored for Treble, Contratenor, Tenor and Bass with piano accompaniment in compound duple time. Harmonically, it keeps to the tonic G Major and dominant keys, the most attractive element is the descending bass line with broken arpeggios in the piano accompaniment (bars 11-15) before a modulation to the dominant in the middle section.

Example 7 Stevenson: The Russian Sacrifice. ‘The Fisherman’s Glee’ (Mary, Ivar, Michael and Paul), bars 11-15
In 1815, Stevenson wrote music for Cymon, a work which David Garrick had fashioned after John Dryden's poem Cymon and Iphigenia.

It was first performed at the Theatre Royal on 9th May 1815 and prompted the following remarks:

'Sir John has been hitherto more decidedly known to us as composer of the most delightful and popular ballads in the English language. In this opera he has taken a higher flight, and has executed some pieces that equal the loftier productions of the Italian school.'

In 1818 The Outpost was composed with words by William Smith Junior. It was first performed on the 11th April 1818. The music is said to have been in some instances beautiful but the libretto was of extensive length and difficult to follow it subsequently disappearing from performance.

Stevenson's final opera The Cavern or The Outlaws with a libretto by S. Isdell was first performed on the 22nd April 1825.
Catalogue of Stevenson’s Songs

This catalogue has been compiled from the card catalogue of Stevenson’s single works in the National Library of Ireland and also the online catalogues of The Library of Congress, Washington and the British Library.

The catalogue has been categorised alphabetically by song type. The format for the entries adheres to the following layout: name of piece, additional information, publisher, year of publication, page description, location of selected edition followed by the number of existing editions and the reference number.

Multiple copies of many of these pieces exist in the above collections. Where this occurs, I have provided the catalogue reference for one copy and indicated the number available from each source. Because I have chosen editions which offer the most information in the title, the date given refers to that particular edition. The date entered in inverted commas represents the date given on the earliest known edition. Where this occurs the date in inverted commas is preceded by an indication of the source of the earliest edition. Dates in square brackets have been added when a more accurate date can be suggested due to historical events.

It does not include the composer’s collections, nor does it include any songs which feature in Thomas Moore’s collection of Irish Melodies, Popular National Airs and Sacred Songs.
A small number of instrumental works exist in both the National Library of Ireland and the British Library collections which I have omitted from the catalogue. These instrumental works are three marches; His Excellency Lord Whitworth's grand slow and quick march (NLI: Add. Mus. 12,339), Lord Donoughmore's first Grand march and quick step (BL: G.352.q.q.(2.). G and Lord Cathcart's march for the piano forte (NLI: JM 4163). A waltz entitled The Earl of Errol's Grand Waltz from The Louvre Quadrilles (NLI: Add. Mus. 5659) and an Overture (BL: g. 272. D. (24.)) have also been omitted.

All of the works listed are written for piano forte accompaniment unless otherwise stated. There is a list of abbreviations in (Appendix 5, p. 94).
Contents of Catalogue

- Airs: 22-24
- Ballads: 25-38
- Canzonets: 39-43
- Catches: 44
- Category Unknown: 45-48
- Duets: 49-54
- Glees: 55-63
- Madrigals: 64
- Operas, Additional Songs to Operas and Individual Songs from Stevenson’s Operas: 65-70
- Part Songs: 71-73
- Rondos and Canons: 74
- Songs: 75-88
Airs

The battle is fought.
Arranged to a French air. The poetry by Thomas M. Bayly Esqr. Inscribed to the right Honble. Viscountess Duncan.
London, I. Willis
c.1820
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 1013.

The Celebrated Spanish Air.
Introduced in the National Melodies. W/ acct. for the flute, ad libitum, by C. N.
London; Dublin, WM: At Falkner's Opera Music Warehouse: at Mrs Smith Attwoods 1817
5p (fol)
Without the accompaniment
BL (BL (1))
BL h.724.q.(18.)

Deeper and deeper still.
...
[Recitative.] <Waft her Angels thro' the Skies. [Air.]> Arranged by Sir J. A. Stevenson Handel George Frideric
London: J. Power
1828
6p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1652.bb.(10.). H

For a thousand years. Recit. and air
London
1877 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.a.(28.). H
Forget thee!
The words written and dedicated to the Countess of Belfast, by J. Butler Danvers Esqr. Adapted to the much admired Italian air Benedetta sia la madre.
London I. Willis, c.1820
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 1070.

Hark the convent bells.
a Portugese air, from Bayly’s Melodies of various nations harmonized for three voices, w/ symphonies and acct. for pf
London, Goulding, D’Almaïne & Co., 20 Soho Sq. c. 1825
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 5083.

Love is a little runaway.
Spanish air, arranged with symphonies ... the words by A. Dallas.
London 1824
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(39.). H

[Thanksgiving.] For a thousand years.
Recitve. and air
London 1830
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.a.(28.). H

To the brook and the willow.
Air comp and harmonized for four voices.
Dublin, Power c.1815
5p. fol. Add.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Mus. 9354.
Toll not the Bell.
A Spanish air. <No tocaran campanas.> Arranged with symphonies and accompaniment ... The words by Alexander Dallas, etc
London : J. Power 1824
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.806.e.(39.). G

Twas his own voice.
Recitative and air from “Lalla Rookh”. Written by Moore. (words).
London, Power.
c.1816
4to, 7pp. [sold by Elizabeth Attwood ... Dublin]
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7268.
Ballads

Adieu to the grotto and glade.
A favourite pastoral ballad.
London, Goulding, Phipps and D’Almaine
c.1803
8p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add.Mus 12,444.

Ah why should love
London 1825
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(35.). H

Be gay, be gay.
Words by - M - , Esq.
London
1815 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2818.c.(42.). H

The blighted rose
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(34.). H

Blue Eyes & black Eyes.
The words by Butler Danvers, etc
Dublin : I. Willis
1821
7p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1660.f.(12.). H
The blue eyed maid.
Liverpool, Hime, 53 Castle Street, & 23 Church St.
c. 1805
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 6816.

Cease not yet sweet bard thy strain.
An answer to Moores celebrated ballad of Here’s the bower London and Dublin [J. and W. Power]
c. 1808
7p. fol.
NLI (NLI (4); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 10,432.

Dearest girl I soon must leave thee.
Sung w/ unbounded applause by Mr. Braham to whom it was dedicated.
Dublin, Goulding & Co., 124 New Bond St., & 20 Soho Sq., c. 1811 NLI ‘c.1810’
4to, 3pp.
NLI (NLI (3); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 6038

Dear Fanny.
Beg.: ‘She has beauty’, written by T. Moore
London
1815 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H. 2831. J. (38.). H

Doubt not sweet maid.
Sung ... at the Theatre Royal Lyceum, by Mr. Braham. The words (Moore) The music composed and inscribed to Miss Mary Westby, of York Street.
London, Goulding & Co., 20 Soho Sq., and 7 Westmorland St., Dublin
C. 1817 BL ‘1815’
fol., [2] 5 pp
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7069
Edwin and Ellen.
Beg.: ‘Battle called young Edwin’, the words by J. Duigan
London 1825
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(36.). H

Emily’s Bower.
The words by H. Bryson, etc
London: Goulding, D’Almaine, Potter & Co
1811
4p (fol)
BL (BL (2))
BL H.1652.u.(6.). H

Erin’s king.
Sung ... by Miss Stephens at the Theatre Royal, Dublin ... the words by Luke Ternan. Beg.: ‘The harp that late so silent hung’
Dublin, I. Willis
N.D.
fol., 3pp
NLI (NLI(1))
NLI JM 1971.

Fairy hill.
The words by H.B.C. Esqr. Beg. ‘In fairy hills embowered retreat.’
N.D.
fol., [2], 5 pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7948.

The frantik maid.
Sung by Mr. Braham, Beg: ‘To Mary’s sad story give ear gentle stranger’ London, Goulding & Co., 124 New Bond St., & 7 Westmoreland Street Dublin.
c.1815 BL ‘1808’
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1), BL(1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7076.
The gallant Troubadour.
Beg.: ‘Glowing with love’, translated from the French by Sir W. Scott
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(57.). H

Give that wreath to me.
Sung ... by Mrs. Waylett, the words by T.M. Bayly. The music selected from an English melody.
London, I. Willis, 7 West ... St.
c.1820
4to [2] + 5 pp
NLI (NLI (1); BL (3))
NLI Add. Mus. 956.

Hark the bell is ringing.
For three voices. Beg.: ‘Wasted weary wherefore stay’ The words from Guy Mannering.
Dublin, W. Power,
W/m 1818
Fol., 7pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI JM 1980

Here in this lone little Wood.
A ballad by Sir Thomas Moore
London; Dublin, WM : J. Power : W. Power 1809
7p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL G. 295. Ee. (7.). G

How slowly move the Hours.
Composed & arranged with an accompaniment for the harp...
London, Dublin : Printed by Goulding & Co 1810
3p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL G.426.cc.(9.). G
I ask no tender parting kiss.
In the Scots style ...
Dublin, E. Lee
c. 1810
[2p.] fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9355.

If then to love thee be offence.
By ... G. Ogle
London 1825
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.806.e.(31.). G

I'll watch for thee from my lonely bow'r!
Sung by Miss Carew at the nobility's concerts, festivals etc. From the 2nd vol of Melodies of various nations, poetry by Thomas H. Bayly Esqr. Symph & accts. London, Goulding, D'Almaine & Co., 20 Soho Sq., & 7 Wm St, Dublin.
c. 1816
NLI (NLI (3); BL (3))
NLI Add. Mus. 6228.

I mark not eyes.
An answer to Shields ballad "Mark'd you her eye"
Dublin, Rhames
c. 1795
fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9800.

I'm wearing away.
Words by Mrs. Opie.
London
1815 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2831.j.(36.). H
In pity spare a heart so true.
London
1810
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.808.g.(30.). G

I see in that face.
Words by W. Smith
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(40.). H

The kiss of affection.
Words by J.L. Lewes.
Liverpool, Hime
c.1810
3p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL(1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9316.

The land of the stranger.
Words & melody by Edward Marlbro' FitzGerald Esqr. With Symph and acc.
Dublin, I. Willis, 7 W St.
c.1820
4to, 7pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 1870

Let the Persian adoring the splendor of Nature.
Words by M. Haugton Liverpool
1802
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.805.k (29). G

Lo the pipe of poor Colin.
A favourite pastoral ballad.
London, Goulding, Phipps and D'Almaine,
c. 1803
4p. fol
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,803.
The Maid of Marlivale.
From Moore's poems. W/ pf/pedal harp acct. Beg.: 'Where is the nymph whose azure eye' Dublin, W. Power, N.D. 'c. 1816'
fol., 6pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (7))
NLI JM 2016

The maid whose heart was cold to love.
Beg.: 'Mild thro' the groves'. Words by E. J. B. F.
London and Dublin 1812
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1248.(4.). H

Marian's Complaint.
Written by Peter Pindar. W/ pf/ harp acct.
London : G. Walker 1805
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1650.b.(32.). H

Mary Dear.
The words by C. E. Esquire
London, Goulding & Co. c. 1810
3P. fol
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12, 635

Morning, noon, evening and night.
Four ballads for the harpsichord or piano-forte [words by J. Cunningham] ... op. 4.
[1], Dublin, Hime, c.1793 BL '1792'
10p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9420.
My Henry is gone.
Beg.: ‘O green are the groves where with Henry I strayed’. Sung ... by Miss Cheese at the private concerts, Westmoreland. St. Dublin. The words by C.E. ... sung ... at the Bath and London Concerts by Mrs. Ashe for whom it was composed and for whom it is inscribed.
London, Goulding & Dublin, 7 W St.
N.D. BL ‘1810’
fol., [2] + 5pp [w/ ‘sold by P. Alday ...’ pasted on] [cntd.]
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI JM 1987

My pretty Bower.
Sung by Miss Paton, etc. <The words by H. B. Code.>
London, Dublin: I. Willis & Co
1829
5p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1654.hh.(21.). H

Oh doubt not my love
In the old English style, the words by J. A. Wade
London 1826
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(42.). H

Oh! I ne'er shall forget the sad moment we parted.
The words by H. Noblett
London
1815 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2818.c.(43.). H

O leave me to my sorrow.
Sung by Mr. Manners at the Bath concerts, also by Mr. T. Russell. Poetry by Thomas H. Bayly Esqr. W/ symph. and acc.
N.D. ‘c. 1830’
4to, [2], 4pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL(4))
NLI Add. Mus. 7344.
Oh! Stay sweet fair!
An answer to Moore’s favourite ballad of Oh Lady fair!. The words by G.A. Esqr.
Dublin, W. Power
N.D. ‘c. 1816’
NLI (NLI (5); BL (3))

Oh! stranger, lend thy gentle barque.
For three voices. The words by J. A. Wade
London
1820
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2835.d.(38.). H

Oh tell me pilgrims.
For three voices. Comp. and dedicated to Louisa Addison London, Power,
c.1818 ‘c. 1811’
N/A
NLI (NLI (4); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 951

Oh tell me, Mary dear.
Sung at private concerts, Westm. St. by Mr. Spray.
London, Goulding, Dublin, 7 W St.
N.D. ‘c. 1818’
fol., [2], 5pp.
NLI (NLI (2))
NLI JM 1995.

Oh then dearest Ellen I’ll love you no more.
Beg.: ‘When the rosebud of Summer’ comp. and dedicated to Miss Fanny Nickson Words by E.J.B.Fitzsimmons]
Dublin, W. Power
N.D. BL ‘1812’
NLI (NLI (3); BL (3))
NLI JM 1996
Oh! would I ne'er had seen thee.
London
1815 fol
BL  (BL (1))
BL  G.806.e.(36.). G

O List unto my tale of woe.
London
1810
fol
BL  (BL (1))
BL  G.805.a.(42.). G

Our cot in the vale.
Written by John Hamilton. Beg.: 'A posie of flowers, which is lovely and fine'. W/ arr. for fl.
N.D.
fol., 3pp
NLI  (NLI (1))
NLI  JM 1998.

Peace peace to him that's gone.
An elegiac ballad written by T. Moore.
1835
fol
BL  (BL (1))
BL  H.1273. (33.). H

The Poor Little Wandering Beggar.
London: Printed by Goulding & Co 1805
3p (fol)
BL  (BL (1))
BL  H.1652.rr.(10.). H

The rose and the lover.
The words by E. Fitzsimmons Melody by Braham & Stevenson By whom it is dedicated to the President and Gentlemen of the Irish Harmonic Society. W/ symph and accts.
London, Goulding and Compy.,
c. 1815
5p. fol.
NLI  (NLI (2))
NLI  JM 2022
See ev'ry blooming leaf.
Written by Joseph A. Wade
Dublin, W. Power.
N.D.
7p. fol.
NLI  (NLI (1))
NLI  Add. Mus. 12,865.

The sigh of her heart was sincere.
Words by Peter Pindar, London Goulding, Phipps & D'Almaine
w/m 1803
fol., 4pp.
NLI  (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI  JM 2024.

The sun was set behind the hill.
Sung at the Lyceum Theatre, London by Mr. Phillips. Words by C.E. Esqr.
N.D.  BL '1815'
NLI  (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI  Add. Mus. 7950.

The sunny hill.
Sung by Mrs. Vaughan at Mess. Knyvett and Mrs. Vaughan's vocal concerts.
N.D.  'c. 1818'
fol., 3pp.
NLI  (NLI (2))
NLI  JM 2028.

The tablet of love.
Beg.: 'You bid me be happy'.
London
1817
fol
BL  (BL (1))
BL  H.1273.(43.). H
That Shepherd sure is he.
Beg.: 'Ah! Should your village rounds'
Dublin, W. Power,
N.D.
fol., 4pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 2011.

There lives a shepherd in the vale.
Words by C.R. Esq.
c. 1810
fol., 3pp
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7947.

There's not a joy this world can give.
Written by Lord Byron
London
1817
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(44.). H

There's the Bower.
London: J. Power
1805
4p (fol)
BL (BL (2))
BL Hirsch M.1277.(31.). H

The Twilight Dews.
New York, Atwill, 201, Broadway
N.D.
N/A LCW (LCW (1))

Wake Maid of Lorn!
From 'The Lord of the Isles' written by M. Scott
London
1817
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(47.). H
A weary lot is thine fair maid
From poem Rokeby by Walter Scott ... Dedicated to Lady Glenworth.
London, Goulding; Dublin 7
N.D.
fol., 7pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 1948.

When first from the girl of my bosom.
Liverpool
1807 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(11.). H

When night was spreading o'er me.
Words Edward Fitzsimons Esqr. Sung in Guy Mannering by Mr. Braham for whom it was written.
Dublin & London, Power.
c. 1816-'c. 1810'
fol 7pp.
NLI (NLI (4); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 8152.

When time was entwining the garland of years.
Sung by Spray. Written by Moore.
Liverpool, Hime
N.D. BL '1807'
fol., 3pp
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI JM 2039.

When twilight dews.
Words by T. Moore.
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL
Winds whisper gently.
London 1867
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.a.(21.). H

The woodbine cottage.
Beg.: 'Oh give me the glow'. The words by J. W. Lake
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(50.). H

The wood-pecker. Here in this lone little wood.
Ballad by Moore. Beg.: 'I knew by the smoke'
Dublin, Power
c. 1808
N/A
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 1981

The year that's awa.
Sung ... by Mr. Braham, also by Dr. Spray. Comp. and dedicated to Lt. Coll. Blacker.
Dublin, T. Willis, Royal Harmonic Saloon, 7 W. St.
c. 1820
4to, 7pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 6175.

Young Ella was the happiest maid.
Written by Moore.
Liverpool, Hime & Son.
c. 1815
4to, 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 5718.
Canzonets

Ah! Love is like the rose.
Dublin, E. Lee
c.1810
[3p.] fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9359.

Ah! Say lovely Emma.
W/ pf/harp acct. Beg.: 'Ah! Say, lovely Emma, a look can express it'.
Dublin, F. Rhames, 16 Exchange Street.
c.1804
4to, 3pp.
NLI (NLI (3); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 5919

Come take the Harp.
Dedicated to the Honble. Miss Butler. The words by Th. Moore.
London, J.Power; Dublin W. Power
N.D. BL '1815'
fol., 7pp.
NLI (NLI (3); BL (1))
JM 1955.

The Cypress Wreath.
Beg.: O Lady twine. The words ... by W. Scott.
London
1814
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.806.e.(29.). G

Dear is my little native vale.
W/ flute or guitar part Dublin, J. Lee,
c.1794
fol
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,392.
Dear! In pity do not speak.
For two voices, w/ pf/ harp acct. The poetry by Thos. Moore Esqr.
Dublin, Rhames's, 16 Exchange St., c.1802
fol., 4pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7968.

Does the harp of Rosa slumber.
Dublin, F. Rhames, 16 Exchange St.
N.D. BL '1803'
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (4); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7936

The Faded Wreath.
A Sonnet written by T. H. Bayly ... Arranged as a Terzetto for Two Soprano Voices and a Tenor or Bass - with an Accompaniment, and which may be also sung as a Canzonet for a single voice by Thomas Philipps
London: Willis & Co 1835
fol
BL (BL (2))
BL G.581.b.(5.). G

Fair Hebe.
For two voices.
Dublin, F. Rhames,
c. 1808
2p. fol.
NLI (NLI (3))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,446.

Go gentle breeze.
Written by M. J. O'Sullivan
London 1836 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(32.). H
Hence faithless hope.
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(38.). H

Hush'd be that Sigh.
The words by R. B. Sheridan
London: J. Power
1835
3p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1601.kk.(27.). H

Hushed are the waves
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(37.). H

If I swear by that eye
Poetry by Moore Esqr. ...
London, Broderip and Wilkinson; Dublin, F. Rhames.
c. 1808 BL '1807'
3p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 10,450.

My Love is far away.
Beg.: 'Not the charms of blooming spring'.
London, Clementi; Dublin.
N.D. BL '1806' fol., 4pp [w/ 'sold at ... W. Power ...' pasted on.]
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))

Stay one moment stay.
Dublin, S. Holden
c. 1810
7p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,946.
The Surprise.
For two voices w/ a figured bass for pf. Poetry by Moore. Beg.: ‘Chloris, I swear by all I ever swore’.
Dublin, F. Rhames
c. 1800.
fol., 2pp
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI JM 2029

Sweet is the dream.
W/ pf/harp acct. Poetry by Moore. Beg.: ‘Sweet is the dream, divinely sweet’.
Dublin, F. Rhames.
c. 1800
fol., 2pp
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI JM 2005.

The sweets of a dew sprinkled rose.
Dublin, E. Lee.
c. 1810
4p. fol
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9358.

There’s not a word a look of thine.
Written by Moore. Composed w/ pf/harp acct.
Liverpool, Hime & Son, 53 Castle St., & 23 Church St.
c. 1815
4to, 3pp
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 5717.

Though fate, my girl.
Dublin, F. Rhames
c. 1800
fol., 2pp
NLI (NLI (3))
NLI JM 2035.
To Julia... weeping.
Poetry by T. Moore.
London
1807 fol
BL   (BL (1))
BL   H. 1273. (4.) H

Turn to me love.
Words by Moore.
London, Goulding, Phipps & D'Almaine
c. 1804
4p. fol.
NLI   (NLI (1))
NLI   Add. Mus. 12,947.

When Delia on the plain appears.
Dublin, E. Lee.
c. 1810
[3p.] fol.
NLI   (NLI (1))
NLI   Add. Mus. 9360.
Catches

_Come buy my cherries_ subitled _The Dublin Cries._
For four voices
London, Fletcher & Co
c. 1800
fol., 1 p.
NLI (NLI (3) BL (4))
NLI JM 2509.

_Here each lad may toast his lass._
Printed with: On every hill, under ev'ry green tree. Printed for the Gentleman's and London Magazine [Dublin]
N.D.
4to, 1p.
NLI (NLI, (1))
NLI JM 2651.
Ah what woes are mine to bear.
An Irish fragment. Sung by Mr. Braham.
N.D.  BL '1815'
London, Power; Dublin, W. Power
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1)
NLI JM 1944

Along the mead one morn I stray'd Dublin, B. Cooke
c. 1796.
N/A
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 1947

Come, we will have a quadrille.
Sung by Mrs. Ashe. The words by Thos. Bayly
London, Goulding; Dublin, I. Willis
N.D.
fol., 4pp.
NLI (NLJ(1))
NLI JM 1954

A farewell.
Written by Lord Byron.
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(54.). H

Hope with her rainbow.
N.P.
N.D.
fol., 2pp [23-4]
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 3607: 24.
The Lady of my Love.
Poetry by T. Moore.
London
1855
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H. 1767. (36.). H

Love's young dream.
Sung by Mr. Braham, from Moore's selection, arr. w/ symph. and acc. Beg.: Oh! The days are gone London, J. Power
c.1815
4to, 7pp
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 1154.

The maid with eyes so blue.
Beg.: 'The lily pure as virgin snow'
N/A w/m 1811
Fol., 5pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 2019.

The minstrel boy.
From Moore. Beg.: 'The minstrel boy to the war is gone'.
Dublin, S.J. Pigott, at the Harmonic Institution 13 W. St.
N.D. BL '1823'
fol., 6pp
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 6560.

Oh say not woman's heart is caught.
A parody on Oh say not woman's love is bought, as sung by Miss Clara Fischer Dublin, I. Willis,
c. 1826
3p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 11,086.
The Rosebud of Summer.
Arranged with variations for the piano forte, with an (ad lib.) accompaniment for the flute ... by George Kiallmark.
London : J. Power
1819
7p (fol)
Without the accompaniment
BL (BL (1))
BL h.724.q.(13.)

The Rose of Affection.
Words by M.J. Sullivan Esqr. Beg.: ‘The Rose which you gave me at parting’ Dublin, Power,
c. 1818.
fol., 3pp
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 949.

The sweetest eyes that e'er were seen.
(from Lord Strangford's Cameons) as sung by Miss Bolton. Beg.: ‘The heart that warm'd my guileless breast’.
Dublin, Hime, 29 College Green.
c. 1813
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7298.

Thyrisis.
A fragment from J.J.Rousseau. Set to music... dedicated to Countess of Barrymore.
Beg.: ‘Thyrisis I cannot listen anymore to thy pipe’.
Dublin, Power
c. 1802
4to 3pp [stained]
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 939

The vernal blooms return again.
Edinburgh, Hamilton; London, Thompson
N.D. BL '1805'
fol., 3pp
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI JM 2031.
Whilst I Listen to thy voice.
Sung by Mr. Spray at the Music Hall, Liverpool.
Liverpool, Yaniewicz
c. 1801-1802
fol., 5pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI JM 2040
Duets

_Alas! poor Lubin._
Dedicated to Miss Abrams. Words by J. Atkinson. Beg.: ‘Young Cupid my fond heart beguiles’; with p.f. acct. and arr. for 2 German fls. or guitars.
Dublin, Gough
C. 1800
Fol
NLI (NLI (3); BL (2))
NLI JM 1945.

_All things around me._
The words by I. B. Danvers Dublin
1825
Fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2831.j.(40.). H

_The Catherine._
A favourite melody of Lady Catherine Stewarts arranged as a duet and dedicated to her Ladyship. Beg.: ‘If to gaze on thee waking’ London and Dublin, J. Power and W. Power.
c. 1808
7p. fol
NLI (NLI (3); BL (1))

_The Chieftain and Lord Ullin’s Daughter._
The words by Thos. Campbell
London: J. Power 1824
8p (Fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1660.y.(5.). H

_Come send round the bowl ... arranged... by Stevenson_ Ditchfield J
Dublin
1825
Fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2831.i.(20.). H
Congenial to friends is the gay rosy.
Words by Joseph Atkinson. Accompaniment has a figured bass.
Dublin, W. Power
c. 1807
4p. fol.
NLI  (NLI (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 10,442

Edmund of the hill.
The poetry by M.B.C. Esqr. Beg.: ‘Who wakes the echoes’ Dublin, W. Power, 4 Westmoreland St., c. 1805  BL ‘1802’
fol., 5pp.
NLI  (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7970.

Fare thee well!
The words by Lord Byron
London: J. Power
1816
6p (fol)
BL  (BL (1))
BL H.1980.ss.(16.). H

The Heart unknown to Pride.
Sung by Mr. Phillipps and Mrs. Dickons in the opera of The Maid of the Mill, performed at the Lyceum Theatre,
c. 1828
4to, pp. 93-96.
NLI  (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 4154.

I’ll be true to thee.
written by Thos. H. Bayly Esqre. Sung by Miss Stephens and Miss Johnstone. Beg.:
“They tell thee to doubt me . . .”
London, Willis & Co., 75 Lr. Grosvenor St., & 7 Wm St, Dublin.
c. 1830
NLI  (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7324
I'll think on thee.
W/ pf/harp acct. Beg.: ‘Think on me, e'vn while mem'ry remains'.
Dublin, Hime
c. 1800
Fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI JM 1984.

Let sorrow seek her native night
The words by P. Pindar
London 1809
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H 1654.(3.). H

Love in thine eyes.
Jacksons favourite duet, newly arr. Beg.: 'Love in thine eyes for ever plays.'
Dublin, I. Willis, 7 W.St.,
c. 1820
fol., 7pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 4323.

Love my Mary dwells with thee.
A favourite duet the music selected from the ancient ballads. The words Moore.
London, J. Power
c. 1808
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 10,448.

Mourn not silly mortals
London
1817
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H 1273.(29.). H
Oh! how happy was the time
London 1825
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(31.). H

Oh! Never shall my Soul forget.
Words by T. Moore.
London; Dublin, WM : J. Power : W. Power 1808
7p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL G. 581. B. (13.). G

Peace
Beg.: We saw the hope. The words by P. Crampton
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(27.). H

Return sweet Peace.
London, Dublin : Printed by Goulding & Co
1813
50p-54 (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.3400.f.(11.). H

Send home those long strayed eyes.
The words by Dr. Donne
London
1817
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(30.). H

Since then by fate.
The words by J. A. Wade
London 1825
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(26.). H
Sparkling fountains sweetly flowing.
Composed ... after the manner of Vaghi Colli
Dublin, S. Holden
c. 1810
6p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,945.

The speaking eye.
Composed by J. Blewitt and Sir J. Stevenson. Beg.: 'I've seen a sweet and speaking eye'
London 1854
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1748.(9.). H

Streplion and Phillis.
Duett iv [of Eight songs and four duetts (?)].
Dublin, Rhames
c. 1800
pp. 29-34. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,451.

Sweet gentle Nymphs.
Dublin, Published at no. 4 Sackville St. [i.e. Coote or his successor at this address].
c. 1795-1800
4to, 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 6264.

Sweet Little Margaret.
Words by Edward Lysaght.
Dublin, Hime.
c. 1800
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI JM 2007.
Tell me where is fancy bred.
W/ pf/harp acct. Words from Shakespeare. Dedicated to Mr. J. Spray.
Dublin, Wm. Power
c.1800
N/A
NLI (NLI (6); BL (20))
NLI JM 2009.

That I no longer wish to rove.
W/ pf/harp acct.
Dublin, Power.
N/A
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 2010.

Think on me.
Beg.: ‘Whilst you glory’s path pursue’. Words by J. Atkinson
London
1818
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(28.). H

Walking among the shades alone.
Dublin, Hime
c. 1800
fol., 4pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 947.

We’re told that man.
The words by C. Butler
London 1842
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2831.j.(41.). H

Where is the light from Lara’s tow’r.
Duet ... in the style of All’s well...
Dublin, S. Holden.
c. 1807
8p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,405.
Glees

Alice Brand.
From The Lady of the Lake, for three voices, composed and dedicated to Walter Scott Esqr. (Author of the words) Beg.: ‘Merry it is in the good green wood’.
London, Goulding, D’Almaine, Potter & Co., 20 Soho Sq., c. 1805
Fol., 12 pp
NLI (NLI (1))
Add.Mus. 943.

Alone on the Sea-beaten Rock.
A serious... for five Voices ... The Words from Ossian
Dublin: F. Rhames
1802
fol
BL (BL (2))
BL G.353.(28.). G

And will he not come again.
(Shakespeare’s Ophelia). For three voices w/ pf/harp acct. Composed and dedicated to Mr. J. Williams
Dublin, Wm. Power
N.D. BL ‘1802’
fol., 4pp
NLI (NLI (2); BL (3))
NLI JM 1946

The Archer’s Glee.
For three voices, the poetry by Josh Atkinson
Dublin: F. Rhames
1802
4p (fol)
BL (BL (3))
BL H.1652.ee.(16.). H
As it fell upon a Day.
For five voices. The Words taken from Shakespeare
Dublin: B. Cooke
1795
fol
No. 1 of an unidentified musical weekly periodical
BL (BL (1))
BL G. 581. b. (1.). G

Bards of the Days of Old.
For Three Voices, the Words taken from Ossian, etc
Dublin: F. Rhames
1802
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.352.(40.). G

The Boat Song.
From the Lady of the Lake by W. Scott ... composed and arranged as a Glee for Three Voices, with an Accompaniment for Two Performers on One Piano Forte ...
London and Dublin: Goulding, D'Almaine, Potter & Co 1815
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.581.b.(2.). G

Borne in yon Blaze of Orient Sky.
London: D'Almaine & Co 1840 BL '1802'
fol
A reissue of H.1273.a.(7.)
BL (BL (2))
BL H.1202.s.(7.). H

A broken cake.
For three voices. The poetry translated from Anacreon, by Thos. Moore London, Broderip, Dublin, F. Rhames
w/m 1802
fol., 4pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI JM 1942.
Buds of roses, virgin flowers.
A cheerful... for four voices, the poetry translated by T. Moore, Esqr. dedicated to the Honble. Augustus Barry
Dublin, F. Rhames, 16 Exchange St.
c.1800
fol., 5 pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (3))
NLI Add. Mus. 945.

Come unto these yellow sands.
For three voices, as sung at the Hibernian Catch Club, with an accompaniment for two performers on one piano forte. The words from Shakespeare.
Dublin, Hime
C.1800 NLI 'c. 1798'
fol., [2] + 15 pp
NLI (NLI (6); BL (4))
NLI JM 1957

The Contrast.
For four equal voices, the words written by G.F. Joseph ... 12p. fol.
Dublin, Willis,
c.1827
N/A
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9110.

Cupid.
For three or four voices, from the opera of Cymon ...
Dublin, Willis,
c.1827
15p. fol.
NLI (NLI(1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9107.

Fair and young.
For four voices... written by T. Moore.
London: Printed by Clementi, Banger, Hyde, Collard & Davis
1803
5p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL G. 424. KK. (1.). G
The Fairy Glee.
With choruses and accompaniments for two performers on the piano forte ... The words from Shakespeare, etc. [Score.]
London: Printed by Clementi, Banger, Hyde, Collard & Davis 1805
22p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2184.d(2.).H

Fare thee well perfidious maid.
For four voices.
London, Goulding; Dublin, 7 Westmorland [sic.] St.
w/m 1803
fol., 5pp.
NLI (NLI(1); BL (1))
NLI JM 1974.

For Anna once I culled a flower!
Arranged for 3 voices Liverpool, Hime and Son,
c.1808 BL '1807'
... 4p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 10,447.

Give me the harp.
A chorus glee, w/ an acct. for two performers on one p.f. sung ... at the Irish Harmonic Club ... 4th May 1803 ... The words translated from Anacreon, by Thos Moore Esq
Dublin, F. Rhames
c.1804 BL '1803'
NLI (NLI (5); BL (2))
NLI JM 1978.

Hail to the mighty power of song.
A charter glee, for five voices. Composed for the Beefsteak Club London, Goulding and Co.
c. 1815
... 17p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,448
Happy love. Adapted to ladies' voices. The words by H.B.
Beg.: 'Come sing with me, my lov'd companions gay'
- Dublin, F.Rhames
  c. 1802 NLI 'c. 1800'
fol., 4pp.
NLI (NLI (3); BL (1))
NLI JM 1979.

How sweetly could I lay my Head.
For four voices, etc
London: Printed by Clementi, Banger, Hyde, Collard & Davis
  1805
  6p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1601.kk.(26.). H

Now the Star of Day is high.
For four voices, the words translated from Moore's Anacreon, etc.
Dublin: W. Power 1810
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G. 581. B. (13.). G

Merrily oh!
For three voices arr from Moore's Tyrolese song of Liberty. Beg.: 'Merrily ev'ry bosom boundeth ...'
London, J. Power, 34 Strand & W. Power, 4 W St., c. 1816 BL '1815'
Fol. 7pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 7306.

Oh wine rare wine!
An anacreontic glee for three voices, ... inscribed ... to ... W. Wellesley Pole, words by E. Fitzsimmons Esqr. Beg.: 'Oh wine! Rare wine! Life to mirth, and death to care'.
London, Goulding & 7 W St., Dublin.
c. 1806
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI ' Add. Mus. 7511.
One night when all the village slept.
For four voices Willis,
c. 1827
9p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9109.

Raise the Song and Strike the Harp.
The Charter Glee and Chorus of the Irish Harmonic Club, the Words selected and composed by J[ohn] W[ilson] Croker, etc.
Dublin: E. Rhames
1803
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.352.(36.). G

The Red Red Rose.
Arranged for four voices.
Thompson Thomas
London: Goulding & Co
4p. (fol)
c. 1805
BL (BL (1))
BL G.809.n.(25.). G

The Original Boat Glee, See our bark scuds o'er the main.
Words by Joseph Atkinson Esqr. Music composed and dedicated to Moore
N.D. BL '1817'
4to [2], 7pp.
NLI (NLI (4); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 4801.

See our oars with feather'd spray.
Boat glee, sung ... at Messrs. Knyvett and Mrs. Vaughan's vocal concerts.
London, Goulding, D'Almaine, Potter & Co., w/m 1818 NLI 'C. 1805'
fol., 7pp.
NLI (NLI (3); BL (9))
NLI JM 2003.
See the lovely nymph reposing.
Ladies Glee for three voices Dublin, Hime, 34 College Green.
c. 1800
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 937.

Sweet lady! Look not thus again.
Glee particularly adapted for ladies voices. Words by Moore. Dedicated to Lady Eleanor Butler.
Dublin, Power
N.D. BL '1820'
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI JM 2006.

Tis love that murmurs in thy breast.
For three voices. Poetry by Moore.
Dublin, F. Rhames
c. 1810 NLI 'c. 1800'
4to, 3pp
NLI (NLI (2); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 6109.

Under the greenwood tree.
For three voices. Words from Shakespeare.
London, Power.
c. 1820
7p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9350.

Under the Hawthorn trees.
The Archer's Glee, for three voices, the poetry by J. Atkinson, etc.
Dublin: F. Rhames
1800
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.581.b.(3*). G
Welcome sons of harmony.
For five voices as sung at the Beef Steak Club, Dublin. Dedicated to president and members of that soc. Words by H.B. Code Esqr.
Dublin, I. Willis
C. 1820
4to 16pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 959.

When Damon is present.
For four voices, viz., S A T B or Treble, Treble T & B.
Dublin, Willis.
C. 1827
8p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9108.

When that I was a little tiny boy.
For four voices, the words from Shakspeare [s Twelfth Night]
London
1834 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(18.). H

When winds breath soft.
Composed by Webbe (Samuel) the Elder: arr for 3 voices.
Dublin, Willis,
C. 1826
11p. fol,
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9097.

With tender Lambkins.
For three voices
Dublin, Hime.
C. 1800
2p. fol. Add.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Mus. 9120.
With the Sun we rise at Morn.
For A. T. T. B. B.
London: J. Curwen & Sons
1905
8
The Apollo Club, No. 281
BL (BL (1))
BL F.667. F
Madrigals

Love's wrangle.
Beg.: My love & I
London 1826
fol
BL  (BL (1))
BL  H.1273.(24.). H

Sweet fancy free.
For four voices
London 1834 fol
BL  (BL (1))
BL  H.1273.(19.). H

To thy lover.
London
1822 fol
BL  (BL (2))
BL  H.1273.(21.). H
Operas

Border feuds or The Lady of Buccleuch.
A musical drama in three acts ...
London : printed by Goulding & Co 1811
65p ; fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.g.1. H.

The Patriot or Hermit of Saxellen.
Melodrama, as performed at the Royal Hibernian Theatre Dublin
BL '1810'
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 2646.

The Russian Sacrifice or The Burning of Moscow.
A grand Melo Drama, performed at the Theatre Royal London, Goulding & Co.
c. 1805
NLI (NLI (2))
NLI JM 5458.

Spanish Patriots or a thousand years ago.
A dramatic romance ... The words by H. B. Code
London 1812
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G. 581.. G
Additional Songs to Operas

The following list of Stevenson’s additional songs to operas has been compiled from the National Library of Ireland and British Library catalogues. It has also been stated in the New Grove that Stevenson wrote additional songs to: The Agreeable Surprise, The Dead Alive, False Alarms, Psyche and The Son-in-Law.

Agreeable Surprise

I love a bit of fun, O!

Song beg.: ‘For while some love full bowls to quaff’. Sung by Mr. Moss in The Agreeable Surprise. Printed w/ Hibernia’s liberty restored

Dublin Printed for the Gentleman’s and London Magazine

N.D.

4to, 1p

NLI (NLI (1))

NLI JM 2128

Cymon

Cupid.

For three or four voices, from the opera of Cymon ...

Dublin, Willis,

c.1827

15p. fol.

NLI (NLI(1))

NLI Add. Mus. 9107.

False Alarms

Poor senseless Mary.

Sung by Mr. Braham at Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, in the celebrated opera of False Alarms. Words D.A.O’Meara Esq. Beg.: ‘The night was dark, keen blew the wind’

London, Goulding, Dublin 7 W St.

N.D.

fol. 3pp

NLI (NLI (1))

NLI JM 2000.
The Haunted Tower

Come tell me where the mind is found.
Introduced in the opera of The haunted tower by Mr. Braham
Dublin, W. Power,
N.D. BL '1808'
NLI (NLI (3); BL (1))
NLI JM 1956

Lionel and Clarissa

From Childhood's dawn to noon of youth.
An additional air in Lionel and Clarissa, introduced by Mr. Philipps at the Theatre Royal, Dublin.
London, Goulding, Phipps, D'Almaine, and Dublin Westmorland [sic] St., N.D.
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 1977

Love in a Village

My Heart's my own, my Will is free.
Arne's admired air, sung ... in the opera of Love in a Village. Arranged by Stevenson
Arne Thomas Augustine
Dublin: Printed by I. Willis
1830
3p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1980.r.(11.). H

Lovers Dream

Young Love bloomed.
Words by Mrs. Leoni Lee, sung ... in the musical farce of Loves Dream, etc
London: Mayhew & Co 1824
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1660.h.(24.). H
Maid of the Mill

The Heart unknown to Pride.
c. 1828
4to, pp. 93-96.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 4154.

Possessing thee my Treasure.
Introduced ... in the Maid of the Mill, etc
London, Dublin: Printed by Goulding & Co
1808
112p-114 (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL G.809.yy.(22.). G

The Poor Soldier

The meadows look cheerful.
A celebrated air in The Poor Soldier [by W. Shield]. Harmonized [for 5 voices].
Dublin, E. Rhames.
c. 1796
2p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,443.

Psyche

Oh swiftly pass ye gloomy hours.
A pollacca duet in the opera of Psyche. Words by Revd. G.A. ... dedicated to the Countess of Charlemont.
Dublin, I. Willis
c. 1816
9p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,426.
Prepare ye nymphs, prepare.
The much admired trio in the opera of Psyche. Dedicated to Lady Caroline Lamb.
Words by Rev. Gilbert Austin.
c. 1818
fol., 7pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7307

Individual Songs from Stevenson’s Operas

The Outpost

Love and the echo.
Sung by Miss Hammersley, in the opera of The Out Post. Written by William Smith
Jnr. Esqr. Beg.: ‘Young love the little urchin boy’.
Dublin, W. Power. 4 W. St.
c. 1815
4to 7pp
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 6263.

O’er woods and wilds.
Sung in the opera: The Out Post, and at the private and public concerts London, by Mr. Horn, composed expressly for him by Stevenson Dublin, W. Power, 4 W St.
c. 1818
fol., 6pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 6929

The Patriot/The Hermit of Saxellen

The minstrel.
Sung by Sigr. Isaco, in a favourite melodrama of The Patriot or Hermit of Saxellen, (and by Mr. Braham) as performed at the Royal Hibernian Theatre Dublin. Beg.: ‘A minstrel over hill and dale.’
London, Goulding; Dublin, 7 W St.
w/m 1810 ‘c.1805’
fol., 3pp. [w/ ‘sold by F. Rhames …’ pasted on.]
NLI (NLI (2))
NLI JM 2021.
Russian Sacrifice

Little Robin sing sweet.
Sung by Mrs. Cooke, in the Russian Sacrifice. Beg.: ‘So blest in our village delights’
c.1818
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7291.

The Fisherman's glee.
From the opera of the Russian sacrifice,
London, Goulding and Co.,
c. 1815
NLI (NLI(1); BL (3))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,447.

Spanish Patriots

Our good father Adam.
A much admired comic song sung ... by Mr. Penson, in the favourite melodrama of The Spanish patriots, as performed at the Theatre Royal Lyceum.
London, Goulding; Dublin, 7 W St.
N.D.
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 1999.
Part Songs

The following editions are written for three voices except Oh! Had I Allen Ramsey's art which is harmonized for four voices.

Alice Brand.
From The Lady of the Lake, for three voices, composed and dedicated to Walter Scott Esqr. (Author of the words) Beg.: 'Merry it is in the good green wood'.
London, Goulding, D'Almaine, Potter & Co., 20 Soho Sq.,
c. 1805
Fol., 12 pp
NLI (NLI (1))
Add.Mus. 943.

The Consent.
Written expressively for Mrs. Willis and Miss Cheese's private concerts. – Westmorland St., where it was sung with distinguished approbation. The words by C.E. Esqr. Beg. 'Sweet object of my warmest love.'
London, Goulding & Co., 20 Soho Sq., and 7 Westmorland St.
c.1818
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7510.

Hark the bell is ringing.
For three voices. Beg.: 'Wasted weary wherefore stay' The words from Guy Mannering.
Dublin, W. Power,
W/m 1818
Fol., 7 pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI JM 1980

The Lovers Toast.
[Dublin] : Joshua Stokes 1780 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1601.a.(45.). H
Now is the merry Month of May.
Trio & Chorus with an Accompaniment for Two Performers on one Piano Forte, written by H. B. C
London: J. Power 1810
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.581.b.(12.). G

The Rose and the Lily.
The words by J. Deacon
London
1817
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(25.). H

Row gently row
The Boat Trio
Dublin, Power.
c. 1816
fol., 7pp.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (3))
NLI Add. Mus. 8142.

Venite per me subtitled Are you coming for me.
Beg.: Oft as the faintly plashing oar The words& melody by L- Esq. ... arranged & harmonized by Sir J. Stevenson
Dublin 1825
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2832.q.(5.). H

Wreaths of flowers
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(22.). H
Oh! had I Allen Ramsey's art.
Harmonized for four voices
London
1856
fol
No. 265 of the "Cyclopedia of Music. Miscellaneous Series of Songs"
BL (BL (1))
BL H.2342.. H
Rondos

(Streams ever limpid) is a Canon, the remaining three are Rondos.

(Streams ever limpid.)
Composed and dedicated to the Earl of Westmeath.
c. 1808
fol., [2], 7pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7962.

(_return my love!)
London, J. Power
w/m 1815
5p. fol
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,864.

(The Fairest Flowers.)
W/ pf/harp acct.
Dublin: Printed by I. Willis
1815
7p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1652.II.(3.). H

(Tell me how to bid adieu.)
Written by J. K. Anderson
London 1809 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1654.(17.). H
Songs

Included in this category are two editions of Stevenson’s arrangements of the English National Anthem, a selection of Oriental Melodies and a pastoral song: Ye Shepherds, give ear to my Lay

Ah! nought can compare with the maid that I love.
London
1807 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1654.(27.). H

Bonny Lasses O.
Dublin, Hime
c.1800
3p. fol.
NLI (NLI (2))
NLI JM 1949

Bright from the East the god of day.
Written by Lieut. Colnel S - W/ pf/harp acc. Respectfully dedicated by author to his ... majesty, and the friends of Ireland.
Dublin, I. Willis.
N.D.
fol., 4pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 1950

By a murmuring brook
Arr. for German fl. Sung by Mr. Brahm Dublin, Hime
c.1800
fol., 3pp.
NLI (NLI (3); BL(1))
NLI JM 1951

Come buy my nosegays pretty.
Sung ... by Mrs. Creswell, at the Theatre Royal ...
Dublin, Hime
c.1795
3p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 11,089.
Come tell me says Rosa.
Words by Thomas Moore
London, J. Carpenter 1804
24p. fol.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 9320 – 9326

The Day Beam is over the Sea.
A Venetian Boat Song. Words by J. A. Wade.
Choral. The Choral Handbook. No. 380. [1885, etc.] 1895 BL '1830'
8
BL (BL (3))
BL E.862.. E

Dear Lucy.
Song beg.: 'Ye valleys to which I complain'
Dublin, Hime
N.D. fol., 1p.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 1965.

Dost thou remember ...
Arr. with symphonies and acc.
London: J. Power 1824
7p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1980.m.(6.). H

Early days how fair and fleeting,
Sung by Mr. Ashe, at Hanover Square concerts.
London, Goulding, Phipps, D’Almaine, 117 New Bond St., and 7 Westmoreland St.,
c. 1815
4to, 3pp.
NLI (NLI(1))
NLI Add. Mus. 5716
Emma's plaint.
Song beg.: ‘Sweet zephyr, tho’ midst rosebuds playing.’
Dublin, Rhames,
N.D. fol., 1p.
NLI (NLI(1))
NLI JM 1970.

Faithless Emma.
Sung w/ great applause by Mr. Spray at the Music Hall Liverpool, the., words by G.A. Esqr. of Dublin. Song beg. ’I wander’d once at break of day’.
Dublin, Hime, 34 Col. Green.
c.1811 BL ‘1802’
4to, 3pp.
NLI (NLI (7); BL (12))
NLI Add. Mus. 10, 440

For her I die
Dublin: S. Holden 1805
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.581.b.(6.). G

Go burning sighs.
London, pr. for C. Wheatstone 2p. fol.
c. 1804 BL ‘1800’
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9319.

The goddess Flora sends me here.
Sung ... by Mrs. Creswell, at the Theatre Royal. the words by Joseph Atkinson Dublin, Hime, c.1795
N/A
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 1953
'God save the King!' The national anthem of England, with an additional stanza for our gracious queen. Arranged for one, two, or three voices (and chorus) with an accompaniment for the piano forte by Sir J. Stevenson, etc. <2nd edition.> London: I. Willis & Co 1830 6p (fol) BL (BL (1)) BL G.295.dd.(4.). G

_Half hid in the Grove._ W/ pf/harp acc. The words taken from the celebrated poem of Oscian [sic] Dublin: B. Cooke 1795 fol BL (BL (1)) BL G.426.dd.(27.). G

_The harp in softly pleasing strains._ W/ pf/harp acc. Dublin, Hime, c.1800 fol., 3pp. NLI (NLI (2); BL (1)) NLI JM 2015.

_He is gone on the mountain._ The Cronach or Funeral song from The Lady of the Lake, by Walter Scott Esqr ... composed and inscribed to Miss Westby of York Street London, Goulding; Dublin 7 Wm St. N.D. NLI 'c. 1810' fol. [2] + 7 pp. [with 'sold by F.Rhames ...' pasted on.] NLI (NLI (3)) NLI JM 1982.

_Her Majesty's authorized Edition of God save the Queen. Arranged for one, two or three voices (and chorus) with an accompaniment for the piano forte, etc_ London: Willis & Co 1837 5p (fol) BL (BL (1)) BL H.2830.g.(67.). H
The Hermits,
A tale written by ... T. Lyster ...
London : Printed by Clementi, Banger, Hyde, Collard & Davis
1805
8p (fol)
BL  (BL (1))
BL  G.295.ff.(1.). G

The Hour of Victory.
W/ a familiar chorus on the death of the immortal Nelson, sung with uncommon applause by Mr. Spray at the Irish Harmonic Club. [beg.: ‘While notes of triumph swell the gale’.
Dublin, S. Holden, 26 Parliament St.
c. 1800  [c. 1805]
4to, 4pp. [Foxed]
NLI  (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI  Add. Mus. 6517.

How dear to me the Hour .
Arr. w/ symphonies and acc.
Moore Thomas
London : J. Power 1825
5p (fol)
BL  (BL (1))
BL  H.1392.d.(3.). H

How sweet when the nightingale sings in the grove.
Dublin, Hime
c.1800
fol., 3pp.
NLI  (NLI (1))
NLI  JM 1983.

I once believ'd my Shepherdess unkind.
W/ pf/harp acc.
London : C. Wheatstone
1810
fol
BL  (BL (1))
BL  G.581.b.(8.). G
Lay of the imprisoned huntsman.
A song from the Lady of the Lake, by Walter Scott Esqr. Song beg.: ‘My hawk is tired of perch and hood’
c.1810
4to [2], 5pp.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 6438

Light as the shadows
Words by J. A. Wade
London
1818
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.(56.). H

Louis the Sixteenth's Lamentation.
Written by W. C. Oulton London: Preston & Son 1793
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.364.(47.). G

Love's young dream.
Words by T. Moore
London: J. Power
1830
7p (fol)
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2); LCW (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 1154

Love to madness.
Song beg.: ‘O! bright in ev'ry grace of youth’
Dublin, Gough
c. 1800
fol., 2pp. (song VI of some collection.)
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
The maid of the rock.
From the poem of Ossian. Song beg.: ‘It is night, I am alone’
Dublin, Gough.
c. 1800
fol., 3pp (song IV of some collection.)
NLI (NLI (2))
NLI JM 2017.

The maniac song.
From the Lady of the Lake by Walter Scott .... composed and dedicated to Miss Newland. Song beg.: ‘They bid me sleep, they bid me pray’
London, Goulding, Dublin 7 W St.,
N.D. BL ‘1810’
fol., 4pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI JM 2020.

Mary, I believed thee true.
A song in the Scottish style, w/ pf/harp acc. Poetry by Moore Dublin, F. Rhames, 16 Exchange St., c. 1816 BL ‘1803’
4to. 3pp.
NLI (NLI (6); BL (7))
NLI Add. Mus. 5542.

May the king live forever.
Sung by Mr. Incledon in his new entertainment of the songsters Jubilee ...
London, Goulding & Co.,
c. 1808
4p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 10,446.

Now Morn is Blushing.
From Lalla Rookh written by Moore.
London 1816
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H. 1273. (45.). H
"Och! Is it himself that's in Ireland"
Written on the occasion of the King's arrival in Dublin by Lady Clarke, adapted by Stevenson Dublin, I. Willis
c.1821
NLI (NLI 1); BL (1))

O cou'd I cease to love thee.
W/ pf/harp acc.
London: Balls & Co 1807
fol
Followed by an arrangement for the flute
BL (BL 2))
BL G.295.xx.(25.). G

Oh! if those eyes deceive me not Written by J. H. Davis
London
1815 fol
BL (BL 1))
BL H.1273.(51.). H

Oh! Nanny wilt thou gang with me.
A song composed by T. Carter, newly arr. for 1 or 2 voices Dublin, I. Willis,
w/m 1819
7p. fol.
NLI (NLI 1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,449.

O ever skill'd to wear the form.
Dublin, B. Cooke.
NLI (NLI 1))
c. 1796
fol., 3pp. [no. 2 of some collection]
NLI JM 1990.
Parodies on Popular Songs.
W/ a Parodotical [sic] Preface by Lady Clarke ...
London : J. Willis & Co 1826
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.d. H

Pretty weeping figure.
Dublin, F. Rhames,
c. 1799
fol., 2pp.
NLI (NLI (1))

The rising Aurora.
A favourite new Hunting song sung by Mr. Tuke, at the Rotunda ...
N/A Dublin, c. 1790
s.sh. fol. n.p.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 10,596.

Robin Adair,
W/ variations 'expressly composed for Madame Catalani, arr for pf by Pio Cianchettini.'
Dublin, I. Willis, Royal Harmonic Saloon, 7 W St.
c. 1820
4to, 7pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL(1))
NLI Add. Mus. 6179.

The rose.
Liverpool, Hime.
c. 1810 BL '1802'
3p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 9376.

Say, Shepherds have ye seen my Fair.
A New Scotch Song ... the Words by a Lady [Dublin] : Joshua Stokes 1780 fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1601.a.(54.). H
A Selection of Oriental Melodies, with Symphonies and Accompaniments.
Characteristic words by T. E. Power, etc
Dublin: W. Power 1818
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1273.b.. H

The soldier bridegroom's song.
From the Lady of the Lake, by Walter Scott. Song beg.: 'The heath this night must be my bed'.
London, Goulding; Dublin, 7 W St.
N.D. NLI 'c. 1809'
fol., [2]. + 5pp. [w/ 'sold by F. Rhames' ... pasted on].
NLI (NLI (6); BL (1))
NLI JM 2026.

Song ... <No 2.>
Dublin: B. Cooke
1795
3p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL G.809.j.(17.). G

The song of Ireland.
The prince of our love George our Father and King. Sung ... at the Grand coronation concerts, Dublin, written for the ... occasion of his majesty’s ... visit to Dublin, August 1821 by H.B.Code ... and adapted to that admired Irish melody. Song beg.: 'Ever blest be the day until time be no more'.
Dublin, I. Willis.
c. 1821
fol., 7pp
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 2027.

The Sparkling Cup, a song ... the words by Fielding Morrison ...
London, Dublin: I. Willis & Co
1830
5p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1601.ii.(28.). H
Summer.
Song beg.: ‘Now that Summer’s rip’n’d bloom’
Dublin, Gough
C. 1800
fol., 2pp. (song VIII of some collection.).
NLI (NLI (1))

Summer eve is gone and past.
The harpers first song from the celebrated poem Rokeby. Written by Walter Scott. w/ pf acct.
London, Goulding; Dublin W St.
N.D.
fol., 7pp
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI JM 2014.

The Sunflower.
By T. Moore.
Arranged with symphonies and Accompaniments.
London: J. Power 1824
7p (fol)
BL (BL (2))
BL H.1847.m.(23.).H

Sweet is the Beam of the Morning.
Basque Song... Words by A. Dallas.
London & Dublin: W. Power 1820
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1650.b.(33.).H

Sweet is the Woodbines fragrant Twine.
London, Dublin: Printed by Goulding, D’Almaine, Potter & Co 1813
4p (fol)
BL (BL (1))
BL H.1601.kk.(28.).H
Sweet minstrel sing.
An answer to Moore's celebrated song of Good night. W/ pf/harp acc.
Dublin, Power
N.D. BL '1805'
fol. 3pp
NLI (NLI (1); BL (2))
NLI JM 2008.

Thy fatal shafts unerring prove.
Inscribed ... to Mr. Rauzzini of Bath,
Dublin, Hime
C. 1800
4p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,406.

Welcome as the flowers in May.
The Words by H. B. C
Dublin: E. Lee 1802
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.364.(49.). G

Wellington & Victory.
Song written on the glorious success of the British Arms in Portugal, dedicated to all his Majesty's loyal subjects. Sung ... by Mr. Spray at the Beef Steak and Harmonic Clubs. Words by H.B. Code Esqr.
London, Goulding & Co., 20 Soho Sq & 7 W St. Dublin
N.D. [C. 1811]
NLI (NLI (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 7955.

What's Life unblest with Love.
W/ pf/harp acc.
London: Printed by C. Wheatstone
1808
3p (fol)
BL (BL (2))
BL H.1648.n.(34.). H
When night was spreading o'er me.
Words Edward Fitzsimons Esqr. Sung in Guy Mannering by Mr. Braham for whom it was written.
Dublin & London, Power.
c. 1816 'c. 1810'
fol 7pp.
NLI (NLI (4); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 8152.

Why does my love her linnet mourn.
c. 1811 BL '1810'
4to 4pp.
NLI (NLI (2); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 5871.

Why thus from the Plain.
De La Main Henry Dublin : John & Edmd Lee 1800 s. sh fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.426.kk.(2.). G

The Willow.
Dublin, Gough.
c. 1800
NLI (NLI (2))
NLI Add. Mus. 10,228.

The winds that waft to love.
Words by R.B. Sheridan. Song beg.: 'Thinkst thou my Damon I'd forgo'.
Dublin, Hime.
c. 1800
fol., 3pp
NLI (NLI (2))
NLI JM 2033.

With Delight will I sing.
Liverpool : H. Hime
1802
3p (fol)
BL (BL (3))
BL G.425.tt.(12.). G
Ye Shepherds, give ear to my Lay.
Liverpool : H. Hime 1800
fol
BL (BL (1))
BL G.805.h.(43.). G

Ye zephrs where's my blushing rose.
The answer to the mansion of peace. With flute or guitar part.
Dublin, J. Lee.
c.1790
2p. fol.
NLI (NLI (1); BL (1))
NLI Add. Mus. 12,389
Appendix 1

Memorial Monument erected in 1843 at Christ Church Cathedral to

Sir John Andrew Stevenson
Appendix 2

Close up photograph of the memorial monument stating the year of Sir John Andrew Stevenson’s birth to be in 1767

JOHN ANDREW STEVENSON, Knt. Msl. Doc. born at Cranl Lave, Dublin 1767. Who as chorister, vicar-choral, and composer, gave his service to this cathedral throughout his life; being the first native of Ireland admitted to office in the choir of Christ Church. In his library he has kept services and twenty-eight anthems, preserving the style of Harvey and real master. Of secular music he contributed to the British school compositions consisting of songs, duets, and madrigals whose Chante still survives for lovers of melody, and was widely known by his adaptation of Irish melodies to the lyrics of Thomas Moore. He also held the offices of vicar-choral of St. Patrick's, organist of the castle chapel, and master of the state band of musicians. He died September the 14th 1832, and is buried at St. Mary’s Painstown C’ Neath.

This Monument, erected by public subscription, 1843, was replaced in the restored Cathedral and inscribed by his lineal descendants and his successors in the service of Christ Church of the Holy Trinity who still love his music and reverence his genius ANNO SALUTIS MDCCCXCIVI
Appendix 3

Recording of Sir John Andrew Stevenson's Faithless Emma

Tenor Niall McGrath

Piano David Connolly

Recorded & Produced by Dylan Rynhart

Directed by Sue Brady
Appendix 4

List of Stevenson’s Operas

The following operas are listed by the title followed by the type of work, librettist and place and date of first performance.

The Bedouins/The Arabs of the Desert
Comic Opera
Eyles Irwin
Dublin, Theatre Royal, 1 May 1801

The Border Feuds/The Lady of Buccleuch
Musical Play
Walter Scott (based on the poem The Lay of the Last Minstrel)
Dublin, Theatre Royal, 2 May 1811

The Cavern/The Outlaws
Comic Opera
S. Isdell
Dublin, April 1825

The Contract
Comic Opera
Robert Houlton
Smock Alley Theatre, 14 May 1782

Edwin and Angelina
Comic Opera
Oliver Goldsmith
Dublin, 3 April 1815

Love in a Blaze
Comic Opera
Joseph Atkinson
Dublin, Theatre Royal, 29 May 1799

---

1 T.J. Walsh: Opera in Dublin 1798-1820 (Oxford University Press, 1993)
2 Husk, Flood & Carr: The New Grove Dictionary, xxiv, 378. This opera is not mentioned in any other publications.
3 This opera was a collaboration between Tiomasa Giordani, Philip Cogan and Stevenson.
4 T.J. Walsh: Opera in Dublin 1798-1820
The Outpost Opera
William Smith Junior
Dublin, Theatre Royal 11 April 1818

The Patriot(s)/The Hermit of Saxellen Melodrama
H.B. Code
Dublin, Royal Hibernian Theatre, 1811

The Russian Sacrifice/The Burning of Moscow Melodrama
H.B. Code
London, Theatre Royal, c. 1813

The Spanish Patriots/A Thousand Years
Dramatic Romance
H. B. Code
London, Lyceum, 22 September 1812

5 ibid. There is an edition of the ballad Love and the echo from the opera The Outpost in the NLI catalogue dated c. 1815.

6 This date is given in The New Grove Dictionary. The ballad The Minstrel from the opera The Patriot is watermarked with the date 1810, furthermore another edition of this ballad is dated c. 1805. According to Francis P. Kerry in the Music Scene in Dublin during the Early Nineteenth Century. (1800-1820), there were six performances of this opera in February, 1810.

7 This date appears in the New Grove Dictionary. The date suggested in the NLI catalogue is c. 1805. Perhaps the New Grove entry refers to a publication subsequent to the burning of Moscow by Russian saboteurs in September, 1812 indicating the subtitle.

8 Husk, Flood and Carr: The New Grove Dictionary, xxi, 373
Appendix 5
List of Abbreviations

<table> <thead>
<tr>
<th>Abbreviation</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ADD MUS</td>
<td>Additional Music</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>au</td>
<td>author</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BL</td>
<td>British Library</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>fol</td>
<td>folio</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>JM</td>
<td>Jasper Joly music collection</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LCW</td>
<td>Library of Congress, Washington</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NLI</td>
<td>National Library of Ireland</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>s sh</td>
<td>single sheet</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Westm St</td>
<td>Westmoreland Street</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>w/pf/harp acc</td>
<td>with piano forte or harp accompaniment</td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table> Bibliography

Boydell, Barra: Music at Christ Church before 1800: Documents and selected anthems (Dublin, Four Courts Press, 1999)

Cunningham, Carol: Selected Eighteenth Century Anthems by Composers at Christ Church Cathedral Dublin,
(M.A. diss., National University of Ireland, Maynooth, 1997)

(London, Macmillan, 2001), v, 79-82

Gillen, Gerard: ‘Music and the Church’, Irish Musical Studies
(Shamrock, Irish Academic Press, 1993), ii, 150

Grindle, W.H.: Irish Cathedral Music-A History of Music at the Cathedrals of the Church of Ireland (Belfast, Institute of Irish Studies, 1989)

Haydn: Lieder (Munich, G. Henle Verlag, 1982), 34-66

(London, Macmillan, 2001), xxiv, 373

Flood, Grattan and Carr, Bruce: Anglo-Irish Music 1780-1820
(Cork, Cork University Press, 1966)

Holliday, A.G: ‘Sir John A. Stevenson’, The Dublin University Magazine
(Dublin, William Curry, 1851), xxxvii, 498-503

(London, Macmillan, 2001), v, 280-281

(London, Macmillan, 2001), viii, 942

Morash, Christopher:  A History of Irish Theatre 1601-2000
(Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2002)

Sherwin, Elaine:  An Edition of Selected Anthems by Sir John Andrew Stevenson, with Critical Commentary
(M.A. diss., National University of Ireland, Maynooth, 2000)

(London, Macmillan, 2001), xvii, 80-82

Walsh, T.J:  Opera in Dublin 1705-1797 The Social Scene
(Dublin, Alan Figgis, 1973)

Walsh, T.J:  Opera in Dublin 1798-1820 Frederick Jones and the Crow Street Theatre
(Oxford, Oxford University Press, 1993)

Walter, White, Eric:  A History of English Opera (Hampshire, Faber and Faber, 1983)
Abstract

On studying Sir John Andrew Stevenson, some inconsistencies have appeared, particularly in relation to his date of birth, the distinction between his full operas and ones to which he added songs and the publication dates of his works. The thesis offers a foundation for the clarification of these matters.

The catalogue of Stevenson’s songs provides a point of reference to his works, indicating the types of songs existing in the libraries and additional information which sheds light as to where and for whom they were performed. A closer look at these works combined with (to the knowledge of the author) the first recording of one of the composer’s most popular songs portrays an image of musical life in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries.

The extensive amount of songs composed by Sir John Andrew Stevenson has been neglected for a long time and it is hoped that more research will be carried out on his life and works, particularly on his songs.